

numedia
A PROPOSAL FOR COBRA GROUP

Three brands. One ecosystem.

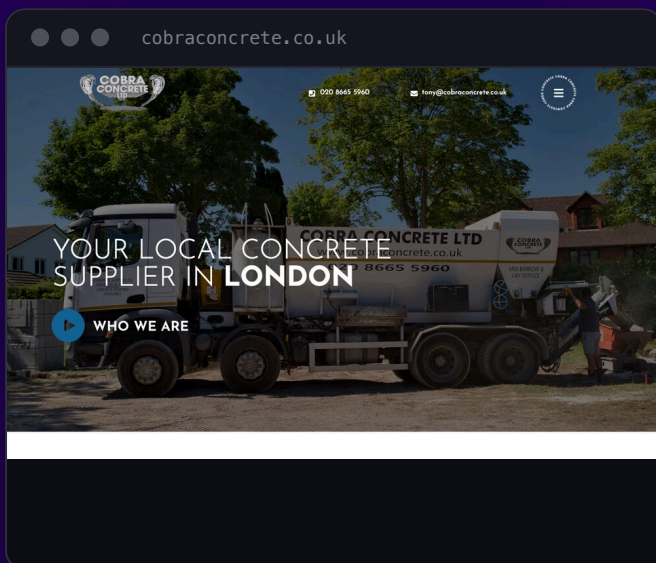

A modern digital home for Cobra
Concrete, CDH Digger Hire and South London Bamboo Removal.

WHERE THINGS STAND TODAY

Three live brands, three dated websites

You have inherited three real businesses that already rank and already ring the phone. The problem is not the brands, it is the websites behind them. All three are dated, plugin-heavy builds that were never designed to work as a group.

The current Cobra Concrete homepage. CDH and South London Bamboo are in the same dated state.

Dated 2021 builds

All three sites are years old and look it, on WordPress with heavy page-builders.

Slow and weak on mobile

Plugin-heavy pages that load slowly, where most enquiries now come from a phone.

No tracking, no lead data

No way to know which site, service or area actually brings the work in.

Nothing shared

Three separate sites with no common system, brand or reporting behind them.

Live example: the current Cobra Concrete footer still reads "Copyright 2021 make this Cobra Concrete Ltd please", an unfinished note that has been public since the site was built. Small detail, but it is the kind of thing customers notice.

BEFORE ANY DECISION

Why not just merge them into one website?

It is the obvious move, and it is the one to be careful with. Concrete, digger hire and bamboo removal do not share a customer, and they do not share a search. Each brand is already the specialist answer to its own question on Google.

THE TEMPTATIONOne tidy website

Merge all three into a single services site. Easier to picture, and it sounds simpler to manage.

THE COSTTwo brands vanish from Google

Fold digger hire and bamboo into a concrete site and their search visibility drops away. You would be paying to throw away value you already own.

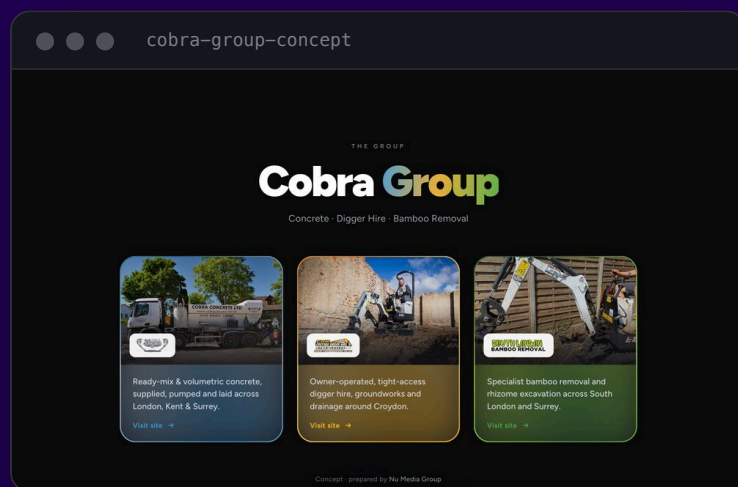

Someone searching "bamboo removal south London" wants a bamboo specialist, not a concrete company's services menu. The specialist site wins the job. The general one does not.

The right move is to keep three specialist front doors, and put one shared system behind them.

WHAT WE HAVE BUILT

Three premium brands, one group front door

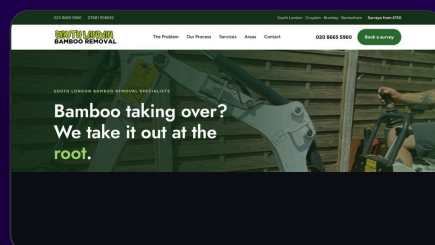

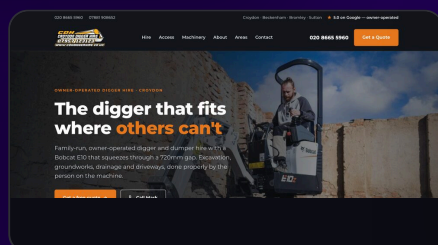

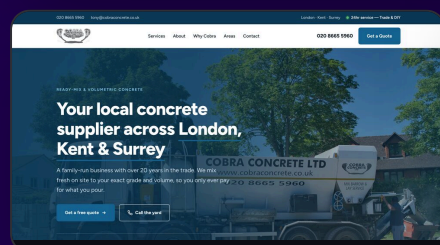

These are live concept sites, built from your real logos, photos and reviews. Each brand keeps its own identity and colour, while sharing the same quality and system. You can open every one of them right now.

Cobra Concrete

CDH Digger Hire

South London Bamboo

SEE THEM LIVE

numediagroup.github.io/cobra-group-concept

Group hub, then click through to Cobra, CDH and South London Bamboo.

BUILT FOR HOW SEARCH WORKS NOW

Google has changed. These sites are built for it

Search is no longer about having the most pages. Google, and the new AI answers on top of it, reward the site that is clearly the best, most trusted answer for a specific job. That is exactly what a focused specialist brand delivers.

01

Proof over brochure pages

Real projects, photos, reviews and equipment, the evidence Google now looks for, not thin marketing copy.

02

Ready for AI answers

Clear, structured content that AI overviews and assistants can quote when someone asks about your services.

03

Structured data built in

Each brand marked up so Google understands who you are, what you do and where you work.

04

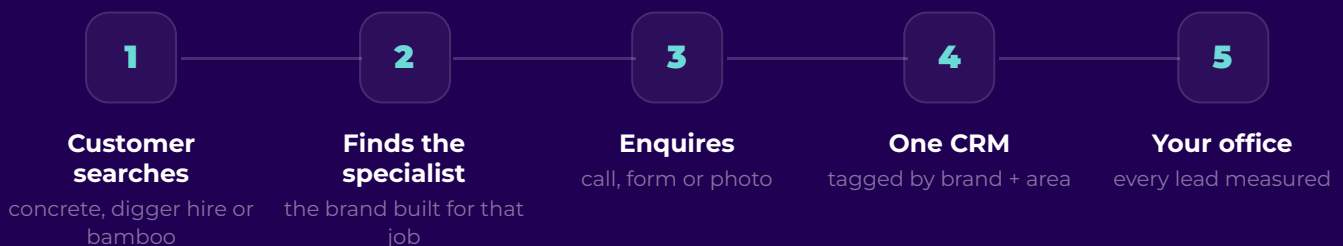

Safe, planned migration

Old pages mapped and redirected properly, so the rankings you already have are protected, not lost.

THREE BRANDS, ONE ENGINE

Separate front doors, one system behind them

Customers see three specialists. You run one operation. Every enquiry, from any of the three sites, flows into the same place and is measured the same way.

One place to manage it all

Shared content system, hosting and reporting across the three brands, so it is no harder to run than one site.

Know what every lead is worth

Which brand brought it in, which service, which area, and whether it turned into a paid job.

HOW WE WOULD DO IT

A clear, phased plan

Nothing rushed, and nothing that puts your existing search visibility at risk.
Protect first, then build, then grow.

- 1 Audit and protect
Secure access to the domains and accounts, baseline the current rankings and leads, and prove what each brand is already worth before we touch anything.
- 2 Concepts and architecture
Sign off the three brand sites and the group layer you have already seen, and map how every old page moves to a new one.
- 3 Build and migrate
Develop the fast, modern sites, set up the shared system and tracking, and migrate safely with proper redirects so nothing drops.
- 4 Grow and report
Ongoing content, local SEO, reviews and monthly reporting, so the leads keep climbing and you can see exactly where they come from.

Keep the routes. Centralise the system.

Do not throw away three specialist shopfronts to build one general brochure. Keep each brand, put one measurable system behind them, and build them properly.

NEXT STEP

Agree an audit and build phase, and we get started protecting the assets and finalising the three sites.